Makarunijada

*It's tradition,
this is a part of our history.*

Makaruni were really delicious

Makarunijada is a competition that started in the year 2005. The purpose of this competition is to transfer this tradition to many guests. This year's competition in making macaroni was in a tent near Malinica. Makaruni have been sold at the price of 25 kn. Makarunijada has started at noon, and the master of ceremonies was Mario Lipovšek Battifiaca. That day many folk players, singers and accordionists from Žminj performed, Akord Band and Anelidi. Makaruni and the sauce were made by: family Ferlin from Gržini, Konoba Pino, restaurant Pod Ladonjon and many others! Makaruni were really delicious. I hope next time there'll be even more people. Not just eating makaruni, I hope there'll be many more cooks that make makaruni. But to be honest this is not just about making food. It's tradition, this is a part of our history. We should all support this. It's nice to know that there are still people who know something about our history because we all forget it sometimes. What are we without our history? ( M. T.M.)

Did you know?

Bloody Mary actually existed? She was an English queen. A daughter of King Henry VIII. She was a Christian while Henry was a protestant. He wanted a son which he didn't get so he got a divorce. He didn't care about Mary and her mom. When Henry died the only one who could rule the land was Mary so she became the queen. She was really cruel so they named her Bloody Mary. She burned so many people in the streets. She was very religious. The reason for burning people, most of the time, was because they were protestants. She died of illness. (K.T.)

1. One Direction- story Of My Life

One direction

One Direction are a British-Irish boy band formed in London in 2010, consisting of Niall Horan, Zayn Malik, Liam Payne, Harry Styles and Louis Tomlinson. The boys originally met during the seventh series of The X Factor, and have since gone on to become one of the world's biggest pop acts. So far they have had 61 album and single #1s worldwide and are the only U.K. band ever to have their first 2 albums debut at 1 in the U.S. Their concert movie 'One Direction: This Is Us' debuted atop the box office in the U.K. and U.S. They won Best New and Biggest Fans at the 2012 EMA and won Song of the Summer at the 2013 MTV VMAs. One Direction announced their third studio album Midnight Memories (first album-Up all night, second album-Take me home). Album is due to be released on 25 November 2013 through Sony Music Entertainment. The album was described by the band as edgier and as having a "slightly rockier tone" than their previous efforts.

The artwork was released early exclusively by the popular British newspaper "The Sun" via a tweet from their twitter account and was confirmed the following morning by the one direction twitter account in another tweet. The early access was only available to those people who had a membership with the online version of the newspaper. On October 11, 2013, One Direction revealed the track listing for the album via a "#Midnight Memories Track Quiz" on Twitter. It revealed the names of the tracks with a mixture of hints and filling in the gap style questions. The deluxe edition track list was revealed through the release of the deluxe edition on iTunes. ( D.P.)

The members of One Direction began work on a third studio album while embarking on their second tour, the Take Me Home Tour. The album was announced simultaneously with the news of the band's third world tour, the Where We Are Tour. Louis announced that the album would have a more "rockier" sound to it. The track listing for the album was leaked on July 2, 2013, but later it was revealed that it may not be the final decision. Ed Sheeran, who previously wrote "Little Things" and "Moments", will not be singing a collaboration with the group, as earlier reports suggested.

The official title of the album was revealed on September 6, 2013, after Zayn tweeted a short video with Harry writing out the word "Mid" out of a pile of alphabet letters on the floor. Later at 4pm, the full video was posted on instagram with Harry spelling the whole name of the album, Midnight Memories.

On September 17, 2013, Niall tweeted that he will be playing guitar on some of the tracks on the album.

CHAPTER I.

'Oh not again..'

Said Nikki while turning the alarm off. She decided to sleep five more minutes and then get up. A tall, slim girl opened a big white wardrobe with a mirror. She took green trousers and blue t-shirt from the wardrobe and slipped into blue Supra sneakers. Her long fingers grabbed black leather jacket and slowly went down the stairs into the kitchen. Her mum Rebecca put cocoa and chocolate cookies on the wooden table. Nikki drank a cup of cocoa and ate a few cookies, then she realized she has to go to the bus. After few moments of looking for an empty place to sit, she saw a girl from her class.

'Hey Mollie, may I sit here?'

'Morning, yeah, go right ahead.'

'Thanks...so how are you?'

'Well...pretty good, what about you?'

'I'm great.'

They were chatting and those 40 minutes in bus passed. As they were near school they saw few boys and girls from their class so they all went to school together. That Monday was pretty much the same as all of them. Nikki loved to go to school, not for learning, but for her friends. She'd rather be in school than at home doing nothing. She loved her friends too, her family and the rest of her beautiful life. She was a good student and teachers loved her.

'Muuuum, I'm going out with Emma and Elizabeth.'

'Okay, you needn't to yell.'

'I'm not yelling, I'm speaking loud.'

'What ever you say. Don't be late for dinner.'

'I won't, bye.'

'Bye.'

Emma and Elizabeth were Nikki's best friends. They were always her for her and with her. They were having a good time, but Nikki had to go home now, like she promised to her mother. While they were walking towards Nikki's house, Nikki was having a headache, but it wasn't really unusual to her. When she got home, she ate her dinner and went to her room to study for tomorrow's test. After one hour of studying she was feeling tired so she went to sleep.

CHAPTER II.

It was a sunny Tuesday. at once, alarm clock started ringing like every morning. After few moments of mumbling Nikki turned the alarm off, she was still feeling tired but she got up anyway. She undressed her pajama and dressed black trousers and yellow sweater. She took her hairbrush and combed her straight, long, brown hair, went to the bathroom and washed her face and teeth. This morning she was too tired even to have breakfast and she wasn't really hungry so she left her house and went to the bus stop. The bus was already there but she wasn't running. She knew it won't go away without her. Today she sat with Mollie too. They were both a little bit upset because of today's chemistry test. Time was flying, and soon, Nikki and the rest of her class were waiting for their chemistry teacher to prepare tests. After five minutes they all had their tests and they were writing. Nikki was studying so far now, she knew all answers. She was writing an answer to seventh question when suddenly everybody heard a crash. Nikki fell on the floor and passed out. She hit with her head and it was red of blood. Elizabeth ran and sat next to Nikki. She started crying.

'Oh my god, Nikki?!'

No answer.

'Nikki, wake up! Come on people, me gotta help her.'

Everybody was watching and nobody was doing anything. Liam grabbed her around her waist and carried her while teacher was calling her mother. When she heard what happened, Nikki's mother started crying, she came as quick as she could. She was hugging her. Liam carried her towards her mother's car and put her on the back seat of a black Volvo. Rebecca drove herself and her daughter to the hospital. She called a doctor who carried her through the hospital. They were at the doctor's. few hours later, doctor finally opened the door and came out. Rebecca got up immediately.

'Is she going to be okay?'

'I'm afraid I have to proclaim bad news to you.'

'What? Is my daughter alive? What happened to her? You have to tell me, please, I'm begging you!'

'Yes, she is alive, but found out that she is sick..way before today. what happened today was unstoppable.'

'Oh no, what's wrong!?!'

'She has cancer, l. stadium, leukemia.'

Rebecca fell as mowed. She was crying and covering her wet face with her hands. She never thought that this will ever happen to her only child. She wanted to see her in her room, but they didn't let her, she had to relax. Rebecca went back to waiting room, she sat on a blue chair and soon she fell asleep. An ambulance siren woke her up, soon she saw a nurse pushing a man in wheelchair with an injured leg. It was raining, she fell asleep again... ( S. M.)

It's magic honey

Chapter 1.

I couldn't go back to sleep because I couldn't stop thinking. I had a nightmare. Again. I have them often lately. I dreamed about a man and a woman. Her face is very familiar to me, but I'm not sure who that is. They looked very happy. The woman carried a baby. In one moment everything has disappeared except the baby. The baby was surrounded by darkness. And the next thing I remember is me trying to scream but all what I could hear are whispers. I felt a huge pain inside me. I started to shake because I was cold, although it was still summer. I always thought that dreams were trying to tell us something. But what is this dream trying to tell me? Is that woman representing Carol? And is that man representing Ronald? And that's how I spent the rest of the night, wondering.

I was really happy when I heard my alarm bell. I put on the first thing I found, Jeans and a cute T-shirt. Before I went out of the room I looked into a big round mirror. I was short and slim. My face was like always, but I had bags. This was me: Clementine Campbell Rivers. I went down the stairs and went into the kitchen. Carol and Ronald were already there, of course. They were perfect.

-You're early today. - said Ronald. I didn't respond to that. I just took a moment and just stared at him. He was so serious. He could even look handsome if he smiled. But he rarely did.

Carol drove me to school. She wished me good luck, just to be polite.

I ran to my friends. I hugged them instantly. I loved them and they loved me. After that we went into the school. I wasn't the best student, but I was a good one. After the school I went to a cafeteria with Ashley, Veronica and Lena. We always do that. Here we can talk about our day. I love to talk with them. We laugh a lot, we act stupid we do everything.

I went home with Ashley. We spend the most of our time together. I could tell her everything. We didn't have secrets between each other. The only thing I didn't told her are my nightmares. I didn't want to worry her with that.

-Why are you so silent today? Are you okay? Are you having problems with your foster parents?

-No, no everything is fine Ash. - I smiled.

Thanks God I'm a good liar. (M.T..M)

Is the world that big?

Do you know what I wonder? Why is this world so big? Why do people separate from the people they love just because of the distance between them? Sometimes I hear: "...so we lost touch because we live far away". It shouldn't be like that! If you really do care about somebody you should do whatever it takes to keep up with this friendship. Of course the other person in this friendship should do the same thing. So, in the way I see it, you have choice. The first solution is to keep in touch for the first few days/months and then just stop and make new friends. But, are you sure you won't regret it? Are you sure you won't ask yourself: How would my life be if I tried to stay in touch with that person? No you aren't sure. It's a risk you just have to take. And there is that other, second solution you can actually try to do something about it! And save your friendship. And it's not even that hard to stay in touch. The only thing you do need is will. And the best thing about it is that you won't ask yourself: what would be, how would be...you'll know you did everything you could. It's worth it, believe me. ;) (M.T.M)

Jokes

An English guy was very ill and his son went to visit him in the hospital. Suddenly, the father began to breathe heavily and grabbed the pen and pad by the bed. With his last ounce of strength he wrote a note, dropped it, and died. The son was so overcome with grief that he didn't remember slipping the note into his pocket. At the funeral, he reached into the pocket of his coat and immediately felt the note. He excitedly read it thinking it might be something he could recite during the service. It said:

YOU IDIOT-- GET OFF MY OXYGEN PIPE!!!

Q: What comes with the new Divorced Barbie doll?

A: All Ken's stuff.

A bus carrying many people crashed on an icy road, burst into flames, and everyone died. Upon arrival in heaven, God said, "Since you have died in a terrible way, I'll grant you one wish before I let you into heaven." The first woman, being a person always concerned on her looks, comes up to God and says "I wish to be beautiful." God grants her wish. The next person can't decide on what to wish for, so he ends up wishing for the same thing. At this point a man at the very back of the line starts to laugh. The next couple, seeing how utterly wondrous the two have become, make their wish to become beautiful also, and the man at the end laughs even louder. One after another, the people wish for the same thing. The closer God gets to the end of the line, the harder the man laughs. When God finally reaches him, he asks "What is your wish my son?" The man says, "Make them all ugly again!"

One day, as a husband was reading the Sunday paper, his wife smacked him upside the head with a frying pan.

"What was that for?" cried the husband.

"I was doing your laundry when I found a piece of paper with the name of Marylou on it!" screamed the wife. "Who is she? Are you cheating on me?"

"Honey don't worry. Remember when I went to the horse race three weeks ago with my friends? Marylou was the name of the horse I was betting on.

Satisfied, the wife continued doing the laundry. A few hours later, the wife smacked the husband with a frying pan again.

"What was that for?" said the annoyed husband.

"Your horse called."
